

Week of The Young Child

April 21st-25th 2014

During the week of April 21st, we will be celebrating The Week of The Young Child. This week honors more than 35 million children from birth through age 8 in America. Crown Colony as several activities planned for the children and families this week.

Monday: Boston Pride Day

In honor of Boston's Marathon Monday, we will be hosting our own Mini-Marathon. How many laps do you think the children can do around the playground? Make your guesses at the Estimation Stations! Show Boston Pride by wearing Boston Attire to school that day!

Tuesday: Mural Day and Kindergarten-Prep Art Show

We will completing our Annual Friendship Mural! There will be a canvas for children and families to put their handprints on!

Kindergarten Prep Art Show 4pm-5:30pm

Located in our Kindergarten Prep Classroom!

Wednesday: The Very Hungry Caterpillar Day!

We will be reading one of our center's favorite story's The Very Hungry Caterpillar, and doing some fun activities and even a special snack!

Thursday: Teddy Bear Picnic

Please send your child in their pajamas and favorite Teddy Bear or other loved one and enjoy a pizza picnic on Thursday.

*Reminder we will still have Tumbles and Pizza day

Friday: All About Me

What's In a Name will be displayed in the hallway for all our families to see! Today is all about your child! Let them pick out their own outfit and pack their favorite lunch! Have them pick one item from home that they can share with the class for a show and tell. *For our younger children parents if you would like to write a note with your child's item so teachers can talk about why your child chose that item!
